HOME HOW IT WORKS TESTIMONIALS TICKET INFORMATION

Urban Adventures – the coolest way to see a city

Forget those boring sightseeing tours! Get out and have fun!

Urban Adventure games are interactive city tours with a cell phone for your guide. You can play alone, or compete against other teams.

There are games for everyone! Tourists have fun as they visit the main attractions. Local people discover new places and learn fun facts about their hometown. There are games for families and school groups, and special games for birthday parties!

Urban Adventures has something for everyone!

How it works

You need comfortable shoes and a cell phone with a camera. You don't need a map because you receive text messages with directions on your cell phone. Go to the starting point and activate your phone. Then follow the instructions. You must complete challenges. These challenges ask you to find things, solve puzzles, or take crazy pictures. You also receive interesting facts about the places you visit. Games take two to three hours.

Rules

Can anyone play the games? Yes, but there are a few simple rules:

- 1 You must buy your tickets on our website.
- 2 Everyone in a group must have a ticket.
- 3 Children under 13 must be with an adult.
- 4 You mustn't use a car or a motorcycle.
- 5 You mustn't enter private buildings.

TESTIMONIALS

"I did the Historic Philadelphia tour with my class. We went everywhere in the Old City, and we visited an old church. Everyone took pictures of the Rocky Statue!"

Stella, 17

"We did a special Sweet Tooth tour in SoHo, New York City for my birthday. Everyone ate lots of cake, cookies, and ice cream, but nobody felt sick!"

Tom, 16

"We went on the Capital tour when we were on vacation in Washington, D.C. The CIA Museum and Congress Library were awesome."

The Color Run

Sunday, May 19th, Adelaide

Do something different on May 19th this year! Take part in the Color Run in Adelaide, Australia. The Color Run is a 5 km fun run for people of all ages. It's also a way to support important charities. It is a paint race. You start the race in white clothes and you finish it covered in different colors! There are Color Runs in over 200 cities worldwide.

This year, the Adelaide Color Run is supporting Make-A-Wish. This charity makes wishes come true for children with serious illnesses. Everyone can run in the event, so bring your family and friends, too! Make May 19th a date for your diary and be part of something special!

Last year, 10,000 people ran in the race, and everyone has their own story of the day. This is Lucy's story:

"Last year, somebody in our school was in the hospital with a serious illness. Peter's dream was to go on an African safari. We wrote to Make-A-Wish and his wish came true! He visited the Kruger National Park in South Africa. He's well now, and we all wanted to support Make-A-Wish. Thirteen students from our class participated in the Color Run.

Unfortunately, it was cloudy on the day of the run, but nobody cared. Everyone had an awesome time! There were people everywhere in the park and we all had white T-shirts on. The atmosphere was amazing. It isn't really a race, and some people walked from start to finish! Oh, and someone completed the race in a wheelchair. Congratulations, number 1,299!"

Are you interested?

Everyone is welcome to enter, but there are a few simple rules:

- 1 You must register online before May 3rd.
- 2 You must pay an entry fee when you register:
Adults and teenagers: $58,
children (under 5): free.
- 3 You must wear white clothes.
- 4 You mustn't bring your dog.

My reading skills

Completing a chart

Before you read a text for specific information to complete a chart, make sure you know what information you are looking for. Think about the type of answers, for example, are you looking for a place, a date, a price, a number, or a name? Then read the text and find the information. You don't need to read in detail to do this task.

Reading

- 1 1.09 Look at the chart and guess the type of information you need. Then read and listen to the poster and complete the chart.

Event: the Color Run	Date: 1
Location: 2	Supports the charity: 3
Entry fee: 4

- 2 Read the poster again and answer the questions.

Who can enter the Color Run?

Anyone can enter the Color Run.

- 1 How many people participated in the Adelaide Color Run last year?
- 2 What was Peter's wish?
- 3 How many students from Lucy's class participated in the Color Run?
- 4 What was the weather like on the day?
- 5 How did competitor number 1,299 complete the race?
- 6 Where must you register for the event?
- 7 Would you like to run in the Color Run? Why? / Why not?

Listening

- 3  1.10 Tom and Jack are participating in the Color Run tomorrow. Listen and choose the correct answers.

Tom's dad can / can't drive him to the park for the Color Run.

- 1 Jack invites Tom to go with him and his mom / to meet him at the bus station.
- 2 Tom must get the number 14 / 42 bus to Jack's house.
- 3 It stops at the bus stop in front of the police station / library.
- 4 There's a bus every 30 / 13 minutes.
- 5 Tom must stay on the bus until it gets to a shopping mall / an elementary school.
- 6 Tom's house / The school is on Russell Street.
- 7 Tom's house is number 80 / 18.

Speaking

- 4 Pairwork Imagine that a friend from a different town is coming to your house by bus. Draw a map with the bus stops. Then give directions. Use some of these expressions.

Get the number ... bus.

It stops at the bus stop in front of / next to ...

Stay on the bus until it gets to ...

Get off the bus and turn right / left. Go down ... Take the (first) turn on the right / left. Then ...

My house / apartment is on ... It's number ... and it's on the right / left. It's near ...

Writing

- 5 Look at the map and complete the message.

Hi, Lucia!

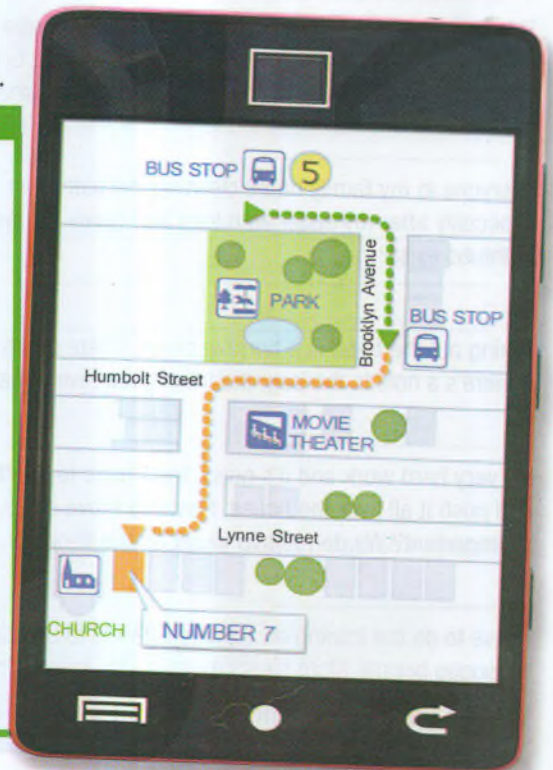

It was great to hear from you. I can't wait to see you! Is everything OK for tomorrow? This is how you get to my house:

Take the number 5 bus. It stops at the bus stop opposite the 1 _____. Get off the bus in 2 _____. Turn 3 _____ and go down Humbolt Street. Go past a 4 _____ and then turn 5 _____. Take the 6 _____ turn on the 7 _____. That's Lynne Street. I live at number 8 _____ Lynne Street. It's on the 9 _____ near a 10 _____.

Don't worry, it's easy! See you at about two o'clock tomorrow. Text me if you have a problem.

Bye for now,

Tina

- 6 Write an e-mail to a friend giving him / her directions to your house. Include a map. Use the text in exercise 5 as a model.

Everyone has to clean the house

My Top Five Worst Chores by Adam Bowen

Nobody enjoys doing chores, but everyone has to clean the house. It's best to start with the worst chores. After that, things can only get better!

1 c _____

This is at the top of my list of chores I hate because dirty dishes never stop! We have a dishwasher, so I don't have to wash the dishes, but I still have to load and unload the dishwasher. I don't have to put away the clean dishes; that's my sister's job. 😊

2 _____

Everyone in my family hates cleaning the bathroom. There are always hairs in the bathtub, especially after my sister with long hair takes a shower. Gross! Why don't self-cleaning bathtubs exist?

3 _____

Taking out the trash is a horrible chore. I hate doing it because the trash bags smell terrible. If there's a hole in the bag, the trash goes everywhere. And then I have to pick it up! Aargh!

4 _____

It's very hard work and it's noisy, too. I have to get the vacuum cleaner out of the cupboard, and push it all over the house. I have to move sofas, chairs, and tables. Why are clean floors so important? We don't have to eat on the floor!

5 _____

I have to do the ironing on Sunday evening to be ready for school on Monday. It's soooo boring! Mom says I mustn't look messy for school! What a joke!

What's your worst chore? Do you have to do a lot of chores?

Comments

Yes, I do! We don't have a dishwasher! I have to put my hands in dirty water with horrible, wet food in it. Gross! I cut my hand on a dirty knife once! Aargh! Stacey, 14

I'm lucky. I don't have to clean the bathroom, but my parents always say I must clean my bedroom. I hate doing it. 😊 Dan, 15

I have to do chores on weekends. I don't mind vacuuming, but I hate cleaning the toilet. That's disgusting! Eww! Ana, 16

I like doing housework. It's relaxing – especially ironing, because I can listen to music. Marcus, 15

2 Comprehension Answer the questions.

How often does Adam wash the dishes? He never has to wash the dishes (he has to load and unload the dishwasher).

- 1 Who leaves long hairs in the bathtub?
- 2 Why does Adam think taking out the trash is horrible?
- 3 Why does Adam iron his clothes on Sunday evenings?
- 4 Who cut her hand on a knife?
- 5 Who does the ironing and listens to music at the same time?

Language focus

3 1.12 Listen and complete these blog comments with have to or don't have to.

I'm lucky. I don't have to do any household chores.

1 I _____ load and unload the dishwasher after every meal. I don't mind because my mom pays me!

2 I _____ make my bed before I go to school. 😞

3 My dad loves housework and he does it all. I _____ do anything! 😊

4 Why do people _____ do housework? What a waste of time!

5 My brothers _____ do anything at home. It isn't fair!

4 Look at the pictures and read the web page again. What chores do Stacey, Dan, Ana, and Marcus like doing and hate doing?

1 Ana hates cleaning the toilet.

Author: Dwayne Our third night

We all slept outside last night and the sky was amazing! There are twelve people on the Neptune (our boat) – nine students and three adults. There are five cabins, and I share one with Tim and Juan. We have to clean it every day because it's small!

Author: Sally M. The Work Wheel

Everyone has to do chores and every day we have a new job. We turn the Work Wheel to find out what our day's work is. Today, I am cabin cleaner, so I have to clean the cabins and bathrooms!

Author: Maria Day six

Today was a fantastic day! It was windy and sunny – perfect conditions. We sailed for five hours, so everyone learned a lot. Chloe was “captain for the day” and she was excellent. It's my turn tomorrow! I love sailing! 😊

Author: Lucas Rules

There are only a few rules on the boat, for example, we mustn't smoke and we have to wear life jackets when we're sailing. They're very fair, so everybody respects them. The instructors are great and they help us a lot.

Author: Ana Sea legs!

I hope I don't have to do the cooking tomorrow. It's very windy and the boat is moving a lot. I hate going inside when the sea's rough. It makes me feel sick! 😞

Friendly Visitors

Americans don't have to do military service, but many young people do voluntary community service. In some high schools they have to do 10 to 100 hours of community service if they want to graduate. Many students enjoy the experience and continue as volunteers. Nina Davis is 17 and she is a Friendly Visitor volunteer. She visits Maggie Lewis every week. Maggie is 82 years old and she lives alone. She doesn't have a family, so Nina's visits are very important to her.

“ I joined Friendly Visitors last year as my community service project. Volunteers have to visit an elderly person once a week, but I see Maggie two or three times every week. I enjoy visiting her. We talk about movies and books. She loves watching science fiction movies and she has an amazing collection of DVDs. Her life isn't easy because she has to use a wheelchair. She never asks me to do chores, but I sometimes wash the dishes and clear the table. It's difficult for her to do these things. Maggie likes cooking, and she makes delicious cookies for me to take home. I never think about our age difference. Maggie is a young person inside! ”

“ Before Nina started coming, I was very lonely. It was a lovely surprise when Nina arrived one day. She comes here after school and we talk about different things. She shows me photos of her family and school. She likes playing chess, and we sometimes have a game. I was a teacher when I was younger, and I help her with her homework. Her grades are better these days! She takes me to the park when it's sunny. Volunteers don't have to do housework, but Nina often does the grocery shopping for me. She also takes out the trash. She's kind to me. I am very grateful. ”

To become a Friendly Visitor volunteer, you must complete an application form and give three references. For those under 18, parents have to give their permission.

What are you going to do?

Follow Your Passion

How are you going to choose your future career? Would you like your passion or hobby to become your work? Read about three teenagers with plans to do exactly that.

Music is my passion, and I want to make it my career and be an audio engineer. I want to work at concerts and music festivals. I think I have the right qualities for the job. I'm a musician, and I'm hard-working and flexible. This is important because the working hours aren't regular in the music world. This summer, I'm not going to go on vacation; I'm going to help at a music festival in July. When I graduate, I hope to study sound engineering at the University of Melbourne. Brad (16), Australia

After I graduate, I want to be a wildlife biologist and work for a national park. I hope to study biological sciences at the University of Sao Paulo. It's the perfect profession for me because I am passionate about nature. I'm very patient and I'm hard-working, too. I love being outdoors, and I enjoy taking wildlife photos. This summer, I'm going to spend a month in the Pantanal region of Brazil. I'm going to work as a volunteer on a conservation project. Elena (15), Brazil

I'd like to be a movie stunt artist. It's the perfect job for me because I'm a very active person. I love extreme sports. At the moment, I'm learning to ride a motorcycle. I'm going to start a martial arts class soon. This summer, I'm going to spend two weeks at a Stunt Camp in Hollywood. They teach jumping and falling techniques, and hand-to-hand combat. When I finish school, I'm not going to go to college; I want to go to a stuntman school in Florida. Ethan (16), U.S.

Summer Internships | Ages 16-18

Doctor, software developer, mechanic, hairdresser – what job do you want to do in the future? How are you going to choose your career? A summer internship is an opportunity for you to learn about different careers. It gives you a chance to experience a career and find out if it's the right one for you. We offer three- to six-week summer internships in twelve different U.S. cities. Each program gives students the opportunity to get real-life work experience. Our team can also help you choose the best program for you.

Here are the experiences of two students who were interns last summer.

I'm Scott Rankin and I'm 16. I did a three-week internship at a garden center in L.A. last summer. My experience was very useful. I did a lot of different things, including taking care of plants and helping customers. I asked a lot of questions and I learned so much from the people there. When I graduate from high school, I want to be a garden designer. I think it's the perfect career for me because I love gardening, and I'm artistic, creative, and enthusiastic. Also, I don't mind working hard outside in all types of weather. I'm going to take classes in environmental studies and art next year. After school, I'm not going to get a job immediately. I'm going to study landscape design in college.

I'm Clara Svenson and I'm 17. I love being with animals and I'd like to be a vet. I did a veterinary internship in a pet hospital in Dallas for six weeks last summer because I wanted to find out more about the job. I had an amazing experience there, and the internship was a great opportunity because I did a lot of varied work behind the scenes. I looked after the animals – I fed and cleaned them. I also watched operations and helped the vets when they examined animals. I know veterinary medicine is the career for me because I'm hard-working and patient. That's important when you work with animals. I'd like to go to Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine, but I need excellent grades!

I'm going to stay at ² ___ school until I'm 18. I'm not going to go to ³ ___ college immediately because I'd like to travel around ⁴ ___ world first. I really want to visit ⁵ ___ Europe. I'd like to do ⁶ ___ internship for ⁷ ___ few months, too.

After that, I hope to go to ⁸ ___ college. I want to study ⁹ ___ information technology because I'd like to be ¹⁰ ___ web designer. This type of work appeals to me because it's creative, but it's also technical. It's also well paid, and I'd like to make a lot of money! What about you? What are your plans? Are you going to get a job or go to college?

Identifying information to perform a task

Some questions ask you to listen for information to perform a task. First read the question carefully, and try to predict possible answers. Then listen and identify the information you need. Be careful – the speakers may not use the same words as in the task.

What will their future be like?

They Will Make the World a Better Place

Our magazine asked high school students about the future. Many students have definite plans for their future life, but others don't know what they're going to do. How about you? Who will you be ten years from now? Where will you live? Do you think the world will be a better place?

Teenager Nathan Rebelo has some strong ideas about his future. "If I get married, I won't have more than one child. Today there are more than seven billion people on the planet, and overpopulation is going to be a big problem." However, Nathan generally feels positive about the future. "Most teenagers know about the world's problems and they want to change things. We're lucky because we have a good education, and this will help us make the world a better place."

Nathan also has career plans. "In five years, I'll be 20, and I hope to be in college. I want to be an architect, and I'll have to study hard if I want to graduate. If I become a successful architect, I'll design sustainable buildings, and I won't live in a big city."

Rachel Barnes is enthusiastic about her future. "In ten years, I'll be 26. I'm not sure where I'll be, but I hope I'll have good qualifications. I'm going to apply to medical school. If I graduate, I'll be a doctor. I won't get married very young; I want to see the world first! I'd like to work on health projects in Africa."

Rachel is worried about the future. "My generation will be in charge of the country in thirty years, and things won't be easy. We'll have to clean up the environment and find new forms of sustainable energy." Rachel hates it when adults criticize teenagers. "Adults are responsible for the world's problems, but today's teenagers will have to solve them."

In the Next One Hundred Years ...

What will the world be like 100 years from now? Will it be possible to manipulate the weather? Will we all speak one language? Will everyone live to be 150 years old? Nobody really knows because the future is very difficult to predict. Nevertheless, more than 100 years ago, an American engineer, John Watkins, made some predictions about life today – and a lot of them were correct!

In 1900, John Watkins wrote an article for an American women's magazine. The title of the article was What May Happen in the Next Hundred Years and it started with the words: "These prophecies will seem strange, almost impossible" Today, however, a lot of the things that he predicted are part of our everyday lives. Here are some of the predictions that came true ... and two that didn't!

- People will watch events from all over the world on home screens in their living rooms.
 - ✓ Watching TV is a normal everyday activity today. In the U.S., 97% of houses have a TV.
- Doctors will use rays of invisible light to see internal parts of a body.
 - ✓ Today X-rays are a common medical procedure in all hospitals.
- We will use wireless telephone systems to talk to people all over the world.
 - ✓ Six billion people in the world today have a cell phone. That's 86 people in every 100!
- Americans will be taller by 4-5 centimeters.
 - ✓ In 1900, the average American man was 1.68-1.70 m tall. In 2000, the average American man was 1.75 m tall.
- There won't be any mosquitoes or flies.
 - ✗ Mosquitoes and flies are still a big problem! Mosquitoes are responsible for more than 650,000 deaths from malaria every year.
- There will be no C, X, or Q in our everyday alphabet.
 - ✗ The alphabet is the same today, but it may change in the future because of text messaging and other modern methods of communication.

John Watkins was very optimistic about the future. He only predicted positive changes in the 20th century.

Today, a lot of people are pessimistic about the future of the world in the next 100 years. But who knows? If we're lucky, today's predictions won't be as accurate as Watkins' prophecies were!

What Will Life Be Like in 2100?

Children who are born today will be in their 80s in the year 2100. About 5.3 million Americans will be over 100. What will their lives be like? We asked readers for their predictions about life in the United States in 100 years. Here are six predictions and what the futurologists think of them.

1 The U.S. coast will be different.

9/10. Very probable.

Because of global warming, temperatures will be 6°C higher. If global temperatures rise, polar ice will melt, and sea levels will rise. Scientists predict that parts of nearly 1,700 cities near the ocean will be underwater in 100 years. These will include New York, Boston, and Miami.

4 Fewer people will get married. Instead they will sign a contract every year.

6/10. Quite possible.

Marriage won't disappear, but it will change. Traditional marriage will still exist, but there will be other options. Many people will live more than 100 years, and they won't get married for life. They will get married for ten or twenty years.

2 Families won't be as big as they are today.

9/10. Very probable.

There will also be more families with only one parent. Today, the average American mom has her first child at the age of 23. This will go up to 29. Most moms will only have one child, instead of two today.

5 California will become an independent country.

7/10. Quite possible.

There are already signs that this will happen. California is a very wealthy state, and if this continues, it's possible it'll want to be independent from other poorer states so that it can keep its wealth. If California becomes independent, some states on the East Coast will want to become independent, too.

3 Spanish will be the first language.

5/10. Possible.

Spanish is already the most common foreign language taught in U.S. schools. It is now the second language in the United States. The Hispanic population is growing very fast. If this trend continues, more people will speak Spanish than English, but it will be difficult for Spanish to become the first language.

6 People will live longer. People won't get sick as often as they do now.

10/10. Definite.

If they have an active lifestyle, today's babies will live for 100 years. Most people will stay healthy until they die because of new medical discoveries. This means that there will be more old people than children! And some people will live to 150!

1 1.44 Read and listen to the article. Which prediction do the specialists think will definitely come true?

2 Answer the questions.

How many people in the United States will be over 100 years old in 2100?

About 5.3 million Americans will be over 100 in 2100.

- 1 What will happen to many cities near the ocean 100 years from now?
- 2 How will families be different?
- 3 What is the most common foreign language taught in U.S. schools?
- 4 How will marriages be different?
- 5 What will happen to some states in the U.S.?
- 6 How will medical discoveries change people's lives?
- 7 How old will some people live to?

Try it Out!

The ultimate ocean sports festival! For fantastic action IN, ON, ABOVE, and OUT OF the water!

Dates: August 19th to August 24th

Many people have tried surfing, or they've been whitewater rafting. But have you tried kitesurfing or wakeboarding? Have you ever heard of coasteering? No? Well, come and try them out! You can be part of the action and try it out!

August 22nd

The Try it Out! festival is the biggest ocean sports festival in the U.S. Our reporter, Linda Spears, hasn't done ocean sports before, so she went there yesterday and she met Joe Nichols, the festival organizer.

Linda So, tell me Joe, what's the most popular sport this year?

Joe Well, a lot of people have tried kitesurfing. It's very exciting. Wakeboarding is very popular, too.

Linda And I see there's something called "coasteering" on the program. What is it? I've never heard of it.

Joe Oh, it's an amazing new sport. We haven't done it at the festival before. You do it on a rocky coast. You climb onto the rocks, and then you jump into the ocean. You also swim into caves. It's great fun.

Linda It sounds crazy! Have you ever had an accident?

Joe No, we haven't. It isn't that dangerous. You have to wear a wetsuit, a life jacket, and a helmet. Even my young daughter has done it.

Linda Did you invent it?

Joe No, I didn't. It comes from the U.K. It started there in the 1970s.

Linda Have you been to the U.K.?

Joe Yes, I have. I went there last year and discovered that coasteering is really popular, so I decided to start it here in the U.S. You have to try it!

Linda OK, I think I will!

Wow! Well, I've tried coasteering! And you know what? I've never had so much fun in my life! It's awesome! I'm going to try some other exciting things tomorrow. I haven't been kitesurfing before, and I've never tried wakeboarding. I've chosen both of them. It's going to be a crazy day!

I've Done That!

Every week, one of our readers tells us about an exciting experience that they've had. This week, Jessica Reed (15) describes how she got her Duke of Edinburgh Award (DofE), and what she has learned from the experience.

What is The Duke of Edinburgh Award?

"The DofE Award is a personal development program for young people aged 14 to 25. To receive it, they have to complete a variety of challenging activities. To date, over 500,000 young Canadians have received the award. The award program has three levels of difficulty: Bronze, Silver, and Gold; with four sections at each level: community service, skills, physical fitness, and an expedition. You choose activities for the first three sections, and do them regularly for at least three months. Then you must organize and complete an expedition.

I've never had so much fun!

The Duke of Edinburgh Award is one of the best things that I've ever done. Thanks to DofE, I've learned new skills, I've started a new sport, I've become a volunteer, and I've made a lot of friends. It's given me confidence and helped me take responsibility.

- I did the Bronze Award last year. For the community service, I volunteered at a computer club for retired people called The Silver Surfers' Club. I showed members how to use a computer and how to go online. I still go there once a week. It's cool to help people!
- For the skills section, I did a Circus Skills course. I learned how to ride a unicycle and how to juggle. I still practice juggling every day and I've learned to juggle with five balls!
- I've never been good at sports, so the physical section wasn't easy. I joined the girls' soccer team at school, and I didn't like it at first because we had to practice outside in the cold, but now I love soccer!
- Finally, for my expedition, I went on a four-day canoeing trip with two friends in the Algonquin Park in Ontario. We carried our canoes between lakes and camped. It was hard sometimes, but we had an awesome experience!

Now I've started the Silver Award and I'd like to do the Gold Award next year, too."

Jessica Reed

Culture

The Duke of Edinburgh Award (DofE) program started in the U.K. in 1956. Its founder was Queen Elizabeth II's husband, the Duke of Edinburgh. Today, the award exists in 130 countries, and it is very popular in Canada and Australia. A DofE award is an excellent thing to have on your résumé for a college application or a job.

2 Answer the questions.

How old do you have to be to take part in the Duke of Edinburgh Award?

You have to be aged 14 to 25.

- How many young people in Canada have received an award?
- What are the three levels of the DofE?
- What are the four different sections to the award?
- What level of the award has Jessica done?
- What two skills did she learn in the Skills section of the award?
- What did she do for her expedition?
- Would you like to do the Duke of Edinburgh Award? Why? / Why not?

My listening skills

Choosing the correct answer

When you have a choice between two possible answers, you might hear both words in the dialogue. Only one word is correct, so you need to pay close attention to what the speakers say. A speaker may use one of the options in a question, but this may not be the correct answer.

Listening

3  2.09 Listen to Oliver talking about his experience of the Duke of Edinburgh Award. Then listen again and check.

Oliver has done the Bronze / Silver Award of the Duke of Edinburgh's Award.

- The four sections in the Bronze and Silver Awards are the same / different.
- Oliver helped at a homework club at his high school / an elementary school.
- He had music lessons and learned to play the guitar / drums.
- He joined the school soccer / basketball team.
- For his expedition, he went camping / hiking in the Canadian Rocky Mountains.

Speaking

4 Pairwork Ask and answer questions about your partner's experiences. If he / she answers yes, then ask questions to find out more about the experience.

Have you seen it yet?

Have You Seen It Yet?

In May 2007, an Englishman posted a video of his two young sons on the Internet. He called it "Charlie Bit My Finger" because the baby, Charlie, bites his brother's finger, and then laughs. The video is less than a minute long, but it immediately went "viral," and billions of people have watched it since 2007! There are billions of videos online, but very few go viral, and nobody knows why. Have you seen the latest viral video yet?

I've just watched the new Singing Dog video. It's hilarious! It's one of a series of videos by college students in Chicago about a cute dog who loves singing. They only posted the first one a month ago, but they've already made five more videos, and they've become incredibly popular. The new video has been online for a week and it's already gone viral. It's had over 250,000 hits since last Monday. Another great video is Gangnam Style by Psy. Psy is a Korean pop singer, and billions of people have watched Gangnam Style since 2012. I posted something last week, but it's only a video of me playing my guitar. There's no chance it'll go viral!

Mike, 15

I love funny animal videos. I haven't seen the new Singing Dog video yet, but I've just seen Greatest Freak Out Ever. It's a video of a teenager who's angry because his mom stopped him playing video games. It's been on the Internet for a few years now. I don't know if it's fake or not, but it's hilarious! The Annoying Orange videos are great, too. If you haven't seen them yet, you should. They're so funny. Personally, I've only posted two videos on YouTube, but they haven't had many hits. I'm working on a funny one of my cat right now, but I haven't finished it yet. I'd love to post a video that goes viral, and then become famous!

Puzzle p.106

What Type of Internet User are You?

What have you used the Internet for in the past week? The answer to this question can tell you what type of Internet user you are. There are four categories of Internet users: butterflies, dolphins, seals, and squirrels. Read the article and discover what type you are.

1 It's 8:30 in the morning. Jessie has already checked her Facebook page three times. She has "liked" two photos, and she has sent messages to three friends. And she hasn't had breakfast yet!

Jessie is an Internet butterfly.

Butterflies use the Internet to keep in touch with friends on social network websites. They send messages, chat, post photos or videos, and comment on their friends' posts.

2 Simon's playing an online game. To play the game, he enters a virtual world and creates a character who has to complete missions. Simon's character has just killed two dragons!

Simon is an Internet dolphin.

Dolphins like playing online games. In online games, players often create characters and enter virtual worlds. Multiplayer games are very popular. In them, people from all over the world play the game at the same time.

3 Carly's spending the evening with two friends. They haven't arrived yet, and Carly is getting ready. She's already downloaded some songs so she can make a playlist. They are going to listen to music and watch a movie online.

Carly is an Internet seal.

Seals use the Internet for entertainment. They listen to music and watch TV, movies, and videos online. They usually access the Internet via their smartphones, laptops, or tablets so they can listen to music or watch TV shows anytime and anywhere.

4 Chris and Holly are using the Internet to do some research for their science project. They've just found a great website with interesting information.

Chris and Holly are Internet squirrels.

Squirrels use the Internet to get information and do research. They read and watch the news online. They use it to help them with their schoolwork. Squirrels have to be careful about choosing the correct website. Not all the information on the Internet is accurate!

Check it out!

Find these words and check their meaning.

- keep in touch with
- dragons
- playlist
- entertainment
- mixture

So, are you an Internet butterfly, dolphin, seal, or squirrel? Or perhaps you're a mixture of two or more categories – a squirreilly or a dolseal!

The Online Community

1 Teens online

The Internet has become an essential part of a teenager's life in the U.S. Today, about 97 percent of American teenagers use the Internet, and over three quarters of them use social networking websites.

Social networking sites first appeared in the late 1990s, and their growth has been incredible. Today, the number one social network in the U.S. is Facebook, but Pinterest and Twitter are also popular. The most popular activities on social networking sites are chatting and instant messaging. People also post comments on their friends' newsfeeds as well as posting pictures and personal updates.

The majority of teenagers say that they have had positive online experiences, and people their own age are generally kind to one another on social networks. However, 20 percent say that some people write unkind or rude things on their social networking sites. Also, many young people have experienced online bullying. This is a very serious problem, and you must tell an adult if someone tries to bully you or is unkind to you on the Internet.

Many people seem to have different personalities online than in real life. For example, some people may be too shy to say what they think in real life, but they are more confident online and they aren't afraid of giving their opinions. But someone who is usually kind may say unkind things about a friend online, and this can create problems.

We are all citizens of a physical community and we have to obey laws. Similarly, Internet users are citizens of the digital community and there are rules of behavior there, too. It is important that all people learn to be responsible digital citizens. They must learn to use the Internet safely and responsibly to help make the Internet a great place to be.

Digital Citizenship Tips

- Think before you post something – nothing disappears on the Internet, so never post secrets or personal information.
- Respect other people – don't post your friends' personal texts or pictures online.
- Be kind and polite – don't say unkind things about other people.
- Be responsible – only spread useful and positive information.
- Be critical – don't believe everything you read on the Internet.

2 Comprehension Answer the questions.

What proportion of American teenagers use social networking sites?

Over three quarters of them use social networking websites.

- 1 When did the first social networking sites appear?
- 2 What are the most popular social networking activities?
- 3 What is a serious problem on the Internet?
- 4 What happens to many people's personalities online?
- 5 What is a digital citizen?
- 6 How can people make the Internet a great place to be?

3 Presentation Discuss the questions with your partner. Make notes and then prepare a short presentation about your online experiences.

- What social network websites do you and your friends use?
- What activities do you and your friends use these sites for?
- Have you had mainly positive or negative experiences on the Internet?
- Have you or someone you know ever experienced online bullying? If so, what happened?
- How do you check information you find on the Internet?

BIKE THEFT ON THE RISE

It's a bike rider's worst nightmare – you lock your bike and leave it, but when you come back, it's gone!

Urban biking in the U.S. is increasing everywhere, but bike crime is, too. In New York City last year, thieves stole about 60,000 bikes! Most people don't report bike thefts because the police rarely do anything. Serious crimes like murder and vandalism take up most of their time. Stealing bikes is easy, as filmmakers Casey and Van Neistat discovered. They made a movie that showed it was too easy to steal a bike in New York City. In the movie, Casey stole his own bike in various situations, and the police only stopped him once!

We interviewed two victims of bike theft to find out what happened to them. Were they being careful when their bikes were stolen?

Make it hard for criminals!

- Don't ride alone at night.
- Lock your bike.
- Keep your bike indoors.
- Report thefts to the police.

First, we spoke to Steve; was he doing anything wrong?

Steve was riding his bike alone at night: "I was riding on a backstreet when I saw two boys. They were laughing and talking while they were walking towards me. They weren't doing anything threatening. Then, while I was riding past, one of the boys pushed me and I fell off my bike. While I was getting up, the other boy hit me. Then they took my bike and ran away. I reported it to the police, but they never found it."

Eva didn't lock her bike: "I was riding my bike with a friend. We stopped at a store to get some groceries. We left our bikes on the sidewalk while we were shopping. I didn't lock my bike because I was only in the store for a couple of minutes. I was looking out the door while I was waiting in line at the register. A guy was standing near my bike, but he wasn't doing anything suspicious. When I got outside, the guy was riding away fast on my bike! I ran after him, but he disappeared. I reported it to the police, but nothing happened."

The Founding of Modern Australia

The Story of Mary Wade

Mary Wade was born in London in 1777. Her family was very poor, and Mary was a street beggar and a thief. One day while Mary was begging, she saw her friend Jane Whiting. Jane was a beggar, too. The two girls decided to spend the day together. It was a day that changed Mary's life.

While Mary and Jane were begging, they saw an 8-year-old girl. She was filling a bottle at a water fountain, and she was wearing expensive clothes. Mary and Jane offered to fill the bottle for the girl. Mary took the bottle and she broke it. The little girl was very upset, but Mary and Jane had a plan. They told the girl that they had another bottle and they asked her to follow them. Mary and Jane stole the little girl's clothes, and their plan was to sell the clothes and make some money.

The police found the little girl's scarf in Mary's house and arrested her for theft. She went on trial. Mary was only 11 years old, but the judge sentenced her to death. At that time, the death penalty was the punishment for 160 crimes in Britain, including sheep stealing and pickpocketing.

Prime Minister Kevin Rudd

Mary was lucky. The authorities changed her death sentence to transportation to Australia. She traveled to Australia on a convict ship, the Lady Juliana. She was a servant to an Australian family when she was only 13. When she became free again, she met Jonathan Brooker. Mary had 21 children. One of her descendents, Kevin Rudd, became Prime Minister of Australia in 2007.

Facts

- Britain sent over 165,000 convicts to Australia.
- The oldest convict was 60 and the youngest 9 years old.
- About 22 percent of Australians have at least one convict ancestor.

Between 1788 and 1868, Australia was a British penal colony. British prisons were full, so the authorities sent convicts to the colonies. The journey to Australia took eleven months, and conditions on the convict ships were terrible, and many prisoners died. Life in the penal colonies was very hard. The men built roads or worked in factories or on farms. The women and girls became servants. At the end of their sentences, many stayed in Australia. Every year, Australians remember the first convicts on January 26th, Australia Day. It's the country's national holiday and it celebrates the arrival of the first convict ships in January 1788.

People who have made history

Women Who Have Made History

In the last 100 years, more women have become scientists, writers, and politicians than ever before. For example, Rachel Carson was a scientist and writer who started the environmental movement in the 1960s. Indira Gandhi was a politician who became the first female Indian Prime Minister in 1966. The achievements of these extraordinary women and many others have changed the world.

This week, we present Marie Curie, the Polish-French physicist and chemist who was one of the greatest scientists of the 20th century. She was also the first woman to win a Nobel Prize, and the only person ever to win two Nobel Prizes in different subjects, physics and chemistry.

Maria Skłodowska was born in Warsaw, Poland in 1867. Maria went to Paris to study mathematics and physics. She met Pierre Curie, who was a well-known scientist. They got married in 1895.

Marie Curie is famous for her work on radiation, which she named "radioactivity." She used the word "radioactive" to describe substances that produce rays. Scientists already knew about the existence of "X-rays," but they didn't know what they were.

Marie Curie's research showed that these radioactive rays come from atoms. She discovered polonium and radium, which are both radioactive elements. Her research was essential for the use of X-rays in medicine. She knew that doctors could use X-rays to reveal broken bones. During World War One, she organized twenty mobile X-ray units to help doctors. Marie also discovered that doctors could use another radioactive element, called radon, to treat cancer.

Marie Curie faced great opposition from male scientists in France, but she never gave up her research. She died in 1934 from leukemia that she developed because of her exposure to radiation. In those days, the health dangers of radioactivity were unknown. Her daughter Irene Curie was also a great scientist who won the Nobel Prize for chemistry in 1935.

The Genius Who Changed the Way We See the World

Charles Darwin was a British scientist. He was born on February 12th, 1809. Darwin is famous because he described the theory of evolution, which transformed the way people think about life on Earth.

As a child, Darwin was very interested in nature, and he collected insects and plants. Later, he went to college to study medicine, but he hated it. His life changed in 1831 when he joined a scientific voyage around the world as a naturalist on a ship called the HMS Beagle. During the trip, he collected an enormous number of birds, plants, and fossils, and he found South America and the Galapagos Islands particularly interesting. He studied the animals and plants there, and noticed small but important differences between species on different islands. It was then that he started to develop his ideas about evolution.

Darwin returned to England in 1836, and continued to collect evidence to support his theory. He worked hard for over twenty years until, in 1859, he published his famous book On the Origin of Species on his theory of evolution by the process of natural selection. According to his theory, animals (or plants) that are best adapted to the environment are more likely to survive and pass on to their offspring the characteristics that helped them to survive. Gradually, over very long periods of time, species change and new species develop.

His theory was extremely controversial because it contradicted religious beliefs about the creation of life. Over the past 150 years, many important scientists have discovered new evidence to support and explain his theory, and today most scientists and ordinary people, with the exception of creationists, accept the theory.

Darwin did not know how inheritance worked because the science of genetics was unknown in his lifetime. The later discoveries of genes and DNA have helped explain exactly how inheritance works.

Charles Darwin died on April 19th, 1882, but his ideas live on. His theories have revolutionized science, and he is one of the greatest scientists in history.

From Slavery to Presidency:

Great People Who Changed America

For millions of African Americans, the election of Barack Obama in 2008 was an achievement beyond their wildest dreams. For the first time in history, a black American was President of the United States.

For black Americans, the long road to freedom started in 1863 with the Proclamation of Emancipation by President Abraham Lincoln. The Proclamation of Emancipation gave black slaves their freedom, but it didn't give them the same rights as white people. It took over 100 years for black Americans to achieve equality. Read about the Little Rock Nine and Martin Luther King, heroes of the civil rights movement in the 1950s and 60s.

In 1957, segregation in schools was still common in many southern states of the U.S. In Little Rock, Arkansas, nine black students were determined to change this and attend the Central High School, which was for whites only. On the first day of school, the governor of Arkansas sent the state's soldiers to stop the black students from entering the school. President Eisenhower had to send federal soldiers to protect the students. It took a lot of courage to continue attending school because every morning, angry crowds of whites insulted the students and they even made death threats. But the Little Rock Nine didn't give up, and several graduated from Central High. Their example gave other students the courage to fight for equality. Nine courageous African-American teenagers challenged segregation in the south and won.

Americans celebrate Martin Luther King Day each year in January. Dr. Martin Luther King was a church minister who was the leader of the civil rights movement in the 1950s and 60s. He was born on January 15th, 1929 in Atlanta. After graduating, King became a church minister in Alabama. Dr. King helped organize the Montgomery bus boycott, which another famous black American named Rosa Parks started. He was sent to jail for his participation. On August 28th, 1963, King made a speech which became very famous. It is called the "I have a dream" speech. His actions resulted in the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which made all forms of discrimination and segregation illegal. Dr. King won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1964. He was assassinated on April 4th, 1968. In the U.S., August 28th, which is the anniversary of Dr. King's speech, is called "Dream Day."

Hi, Carlos,
 Guess what! I'm on vacation in Australia with my cousin. It's a really interesting country. I've done some very exciting things. I've been diving on the Great Barrier Reef, I've swum with sharks, and I've done a parachute jump! I went diving last weekend. The fish and the coral were incredibly beautiful. It's quite easy to take pictures because the sea is really clear. On Sunday, I was diving when two sharks swam past me. I was really scared! Yesterday, I did a parachute jump from an airplane. I was extremely frightened before the jump, but I'm very proud I did it!
 Bye for now!
 Dave

6 How I use the Internet

1 Read the rules.

Expressions of frequency

We use adverbs of frequency and phrases to say how often things happen.

never, rarely, hardly ever, sometimes, usually,

generally, often, always

every day / month / year

once / twice / three times a week

Frequency adverbs go between the subject and the verb.

She never posts comments.

Adverb phrases go at the end of the sentence.

Tom plays video games three times a week.

2 Where does the adverb or adverb phrase go in these sentences? Check (✓) the correct position.

___ I access ___ the Internet ___ with my smartphone ___. (rarely)

1 Maria ___ chats ___ to her friends ___. (every day)

2 I ___ read ___ the newspaper ___ on Sundays ___. (sometimes)

3 ___ Those students ___ go ___ to the movies ___. (once a month)

4 We ___ buy ___ things ___ online ___. (often)

3 Reorder the words to make sentences.

phone / online / go / Mom / her / never / to / uses

Mom never uses her phone to go online.

1 week / a / I / room / clean / my / once

2 month / visits / Lucia / her / twice / grandparents / a

3 TV / my / night / is / on / every / show / favorite

4 three / week / I / soccer / play / a / times

5 computers / in / ever / class / use / hardly / math / we

4 Rewrite the sentences so they are true for you. Use expressions of frequency.

I go online.

I go online twice a week.

1 I download music.

2 I post comments on other people's social network sites.

3 I use the Internet at school.

4 I have used the Internet for schoolwork.

5 I watch online videos.

5 Now do exercise 6 on page 67.

7 A crime

1 Read the rules.

Time expressions in stories

We use time expressions like Last week and Yesterday to say when something happened.

Last month, I saw a crime in the street.

We use when and while to talk about actions and situations that take place at the same time.

I was walking home when a man stole my purse.

The man was watching me while I was waiting for the bus.

We use time expressions like First, Suddenly, Then, Next, Just then, After that, Next, Later, In the end, and Finally to order events in a story.

The man bought a ticket. Then he sat down.

Suddenly, a woman started shouting.

In the end, the thief ran away.

2 Choose the correct answers.

I was so mad when / while someone stole my phone at school. After that / At first I thought it was at home, but it wasn't.

- 1 While / When I was looking at my watch, a man took my bag. Suddenly / Then he ran down the street and disappeared.
- 2 Last night, / Next, I was walking down the street when / then I heard a noise behind me. Suddenly / Later, a man ran past me.

3 Complete the texts with the time expressions in the box. There is more than one possible answer.

After that Finally Suddenly
Then Yesterday

- 1 Yesterday, I was standing in the bank. ¹ _____, two robbers came in and told everyone to lie on the floor. ² _____, they told the clerk to give them the money. ³ _____, they ran out of the bank. ⁴ _____, the police arrived, but it was too late.

After that In the end Just then
Last night Then when

- 2 ⁵ _____, Sophie and I were waiting for the bus. ⁶ _____, a man grabbed my sister's purse. ⁷ _____, he ran away. ⁸ _____, the man stole a car. ⁹ _____, the police arrested him ¹⁰ _____ he crashed the car.

1 Food poisoning

Every year, about 48 million people in the U.S. get food poisoning, and about 3,000 Americans die from it. Dangerous microbes are responsible for food poisoning. Microbes are microscopic organisms, including fungi, viruses, and bacteria. Bacteria are the most common microbes (often called "germs") that cause food poisoning.

2 _____

Bacteria are one-cell living organisms. They need food, water, and the right temperature to grow and multiply. In the right conditions, one cell can multiply to nearly 17 million cells in eight hours. A bacterium is like a normal animal cell, but it is smaller and it doesn't have a nucleus. Some bacteria have a tail (a flagellum). This helps them move about.

3 _____

There are thousands of different types of bacteria. Scientists classify them according to their shape.

Bacteria are everywhere, and most of them are harmless. There are ten times more bacteria cells in your body than there are body cells. Some bacteria are helpful, for example, enteric bacteria in our intestines help our bodies digest food. Only a few bacteria are pathogenic (cause disease).

4 _____

Pathogenic bacteria multiply inside our body, and they release toxins or poisons that make us ill. Five bacteria are responsible for most cases of food poisoning.

- Campylobacter jejuni is spiral shaped. It develops in chicken, milk, and other dairy foods. It is the most common cause of food poisoning, but it isn't usually serious.
- Clostridium perfringens is rod shaped. It lives in human intestines, and develops in cooked food at room temperature. It makes you feel ill for about 24 hours.
- Escherichia coli or E.coli is rod shaped. It lives in human and animal intestines, and it gets into food that is in contact with animal or human feces. It can be very serious, and causes about 400 deaths in the U.S. every year.
- Salmonella is rod shaped. You can get it from eggs or chicken. There are about 1.2 million cases every year, and it kills over 1,000 people.
- Staphylococcus aureus is round. It lives in our noses and skin. It gets into food that we make with our hands, or if we cough on food. It multiplies very quickly at room temperature, but it is rarely serious.

5 _____

Germs get into food when we don't follow basic safety rules. Cold or hot temperatures kill most bacteria, so it's important to keep food in the refrigerator, and to cook it well. And, of course, we must always wash our hands before we touch food, and after visiting the toilet.

1 Read the article quickly. Match the titles with the paragraphs.

- A Different types of bacteria
- B Bacteria
- C Prevention
- D Pathogens
- E Food poisoning

2 Read the article again. Find and correct the mistakes.

Bacteria are the only microbes that cause food poisoning.

Bacteria are the most common microbes that cause food poisoning.

- 1 Bacteria are larger than normal cells, and they have a nucleus.

- 2 Most bacteria are dangerous.

- 3 Campylobacter jejuni is a very rare cause of food poisoning.

- 4 Salmonella food poisoning is rarely serious.

- 5 Staphylococcus aureus is a rod-shaped bacteria.

3 Complete the sentences.

In the U.S., about 3,000 people die from food poisoning every year.

- 1 Microbes include bacteria, _____, and _____.
- 2 Bacteria can only grow and multiply if they have _____, _____, and the _____.
- 3 Enteric bacteria live in our intestines and they help us _____.
- 4 Staphylococcus aureus lives in our _____.
- 5 It's important to keep food in the refrigerator because _____ kill most bacteria.

4 Match the words with the definitions.

- | | |
|--------------|---|
| 1 microbe | a to break down food in your intestines so your body can use it |
| 2 germ | b poison that bacteria release into our bodies |
| 3 toxin | c a dangerous microbe |

The Melting Pot

Who are the American people?

1 Indigenous People

The first people to come to North America probably arrived about 30,000 years ago. They walked across the Bering Strait between Asia and North America, and then moved south. The arrival of the first Europeans in 1500 was a disaster for these indigenous people. The newcomers brought diseases which killed native people, and they killed many more for their land. Historians estimate that by 1900 there were only 200,000 Native Americans left in the U.S. Today, there are about five million people of native origin. Famous Native Americans from history include Sitting Bull and Pocahontas.

The British were the first Europeans to arrive in North America. They settled on the East Coast from around 1600. Some Spanish immigrants settled in modern-day California and Texas, and French immigrants went to the area that is now Louisiana and Florida. Many settlers became farmers because there was a lot of land. Towards the end of the 19th century, immigrants from all over Europe came to the U.S. looking for a better life. These new Americans included many Jews. They were escaping discrimination in Europe. Famous Jewish Americans include the singer Bob Dylan and Mark Zuckerberg, a co-founder of Facebook.

From around 1650, Europeans started transporting the first African slaves to work on the sugar and cotton plantations of the South. When the U.S. became independent, in 1776, about 20 percent of the population was African-American. In 1860, there were about 3.5 million slaves in the south and half a million free African-Americans in the north. Today there are about 40 million African-Americans. Famous African-Americans include civil rights campaigner Martin Luther King and President Barack Obama.

Latin American immigration to the U.S. started to increase in the early 20th century when large numbers of Mexicans arrived in Texas, California, and Arizona. After the Cuban Revolution in 1959, many Cubans came to America, too. Later, people from other Central American countries such as Honduras, the Dominican Republic, and El Salvador emigrated to the U.S. Today, there are more than 50 million Hispanic-Americans living in the United States. Famous Hispanic-Americans include the actress Cameron Diaz and the singer Jennifer Lopez.

At the end of the 20th century, large numbers of immigrants came from Asia. They came from countries like the Philippines, Vietnam, India, China, and Pakistan. Many were economic immigrants, attracted by the promise of a better life.

Its unique mix of people from different origins is what makes the United States a melting pot of cultural diversity.

Blog

FAQ

Search

Before you start

Ask yourself: Who is your site for? Why will they visit the site? This will influence the way you design the site and what you put on it. It's a good idea to look at similar websites for ideas.

1 Choose a name and a web host

You must choose the domain name for your site as this is your Internet address. First, check that the domain is available, and then register it. Next, you must choose a web host company. These companies keep websites on their computers and make them available on the Internet. You usually have to pay to register your domain, as well as pay the web host company.

2 _____

Choose the content for your site. Most sites have text, images, and videos, so it's a good idea to have all three. Plan the content of your homepage carefully because this is the first thing that visitors to your site will see. It should be attractive and clear.

3 _____

Decide what pages you want on your site. It should have a clear structure, so visitors can navigate and find what they want easily. Almost all websites have the following pages, so you should include them:

Home This first page often has a short description of the person and their interests.

About Us This page explains the purpose of the website.

Contact Us Include your e-mail address, but not a phone number.

You need to decide what other pages you want on your site, for example, photos, a blog, news, or FAQ (Frequently Asked Questions). Next, create your site map and decide which pages you want to include on the main menu bar. This can be at the top or on the side.

4 _____

The easiest way to create a website is to use a web editor. This is a special software program for creating websites. There are a lot of web editors, for example, Dreamweaver, Komodo Edit, and HTML-Kit. These web editors offer a variety of model web pages, or templates. You can choose the one you like best and use it for your website.

5 _____

Then upload your content onto the template you have chosen. You can personalize, or customize, your content by choosing the colors and fonts for your pages. All web editors have editing tools. You can use these editing tools to name the different pages of your site and to add the text, images, and videos.

American Writers and Their Novels

Novels

Many great novels come from the U.S. Some of the famous novels below are over 100 years old, but they are still popular today.

1 Adventures of Huckleberry Finn

by Mark Twain (1885)

A young boy runs away from home. He makes friends with an African-American slave, Jim. Together, they travel down the Mississippi River. They have lots of adventures, some good and some bad. At the end of the story, Jim becomes a free man.

2 Little Women

by _____ (1868)

Four sisters – Meg, Jo, Beth, and Amy – live with their mother in Boston during the 1860s. Their father is away fighting in the American Civil War. The four girls are all very different, but they all help each other during a very difficult time.

3 A Farewell to Arms

by _____ (1929)

This is the story of an American ambulance driver in the Italian army during World War One. Lieutenant Frederic Henry falls in love with an English nurse named Catherine. The story is tragic. Catherine dies after giving birth to their stillborn child.

4 The Grapes of Wrath

by _____ (1939)

Life is very difficult in Oklahoma in the 1930s. Tom Joad and his family leave their farm. They drive across America to California. Tom and his family try to find work on farms in California, but this is not easy.

Writers

a Louisa May Alcott

Louisa May Alcott was born in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania in 1832. She moved to Boston when she was young. She had three sisters. In her novel, she describes a family very similar to hers. She never got married, and she died in 1888.

b John Steinbeck

John Steinbeck was born in 1902 in Salinas, California. Many of his novels are about poor people who live in California in the 1930s, for example Of Mice and Men. He won the Nobel Prize in 1962. He got married three times and had two children. He died in New York in 1968.

c Ernest Hemingway

Ernest Hemingway was born near Chicago in 1899. As a young man, he worked for a newspaper. During World War One, he drove an ambulance in Italy. He lived in Paris, Florida, Spain, and Cuba. Many of his novels describe the places that he visited. He died in Idaho in 1961.

d Mark Twain

Samuel Clemens, which is the real name of Mark Twain, was born in Missouri in 1835. When he was four, his family moved to the town of Hannibal, by the Mississippi River. He worked in a newspaper office, and then on a boat on the Mississippi. He loved the river, and many of his books tell stories about it. He died in 1910.

Grammar rules

must

Affirmative and negative

Affirmative
I must study.
You must listen.
He must stop talking.
She must clean her room.
It must be turned off in class.
We must go to class.
You must do your homework.
They must have tickets.

Subject + must + base form of the verb

Negative
Full forms	Short forms
I must not be late.	I mustn't be late.
You must not talk.	You mustn't talk.
He must not come home late.	He mustn't come home late.
She must not eat a lot of candy.	She mustn't eat a lot of candy.
It must not be loud.	It mustn't be loud.
We must not take photographs.	We mustn't take photographs.
You must not swim here.	You mustn't swim here.

Subject + must not / mustn't + base form of the verb

1 Must is a modal verb. All modal verbs follow the same rules:

- We only use one form for all persons.
I must stop. He must stop.
She must stop. It must stop.
We must stop. They must stop.
- We do not add an -s to must with he, she, or it.
He must stop. NOT He ~~musts~~ stop.
She must stop. NOT She ~~musts~~ stop.

- We always follow must with another verb in the base form.
You must drive slowly.
NOT You ~~must to drive~~ slowly.
You mustn't run in school.
NOT You ~~mustn't to run in school~~.
- We don't use don't / doesn't with the negative form of modal verbs.
You mustn't come home late.
NOT You ~~don't must~~ come home late.

2 The negative form of must is must not. In spoken and informal written English, must not is usually abbreviated to mustn't.

You must not text in class. = You mustn't text in class.

I must not be late. = I mustn't be late.

3 We use must to talk about necessity. Necessity means that you cannot avoid doing something.

You must come home before 9:30 p.m.
(You cannot come home after 9:30 p.m.)

You must be 18 to drive a car.
(You cannot drive a car before you are 18.)

I must call Adam. It's his birthday today.
(I cannot call Adam tomorrow because it's his birthday today.)

I must do my homework now.
(I cannot do my homework later because I'm busy.)

4 We use must to express general obligation.

You must drive on the right in the U.S.
You must have a passport to travel to a foreign country.
You must stop at a red traffic light.

5 We use mustn't to express prohibition.

You mustn't use a dictionary in the test!
You mustn't use your cell phone in class.
You mustn't run across the street.

Compounds: some- / any- / no-

	Person	Thing	Place
some	someone / somebody	something	somewhere
any	anyone / anybody	anything	anywhere
	no one / nobody	nothing	nowhere

- 1 We use -one / -body to talk about people.
- 2 We use -thing to talk about things and objects.
- 3 We use -where to talk about places.
- 4 We use the compound some- in affirmative sentences.

Someone / Somebody is at the door.

I need something cool to wear for the party.

I want to go somewhere fun this weekend.

- 5 We use the compound any- in negative sentences and questions.

I don't know anyone / anybody at my new school.

Do you know anyone / anybody at your new school?

There isn't anything interesting to watch on TV.

Is there anything interesting to watch on TV?

I didn't go anywhere interesting on vacation.

Do you want to go anywhere special on vacation?

- 6 We use the compound no- in affirmative sentences to mean something does not exist.
There's no one / nobody in the movie theater.
I like to do nothing on Sunday mornings.
There's nowhere to go skateboarding in this town.

Watch out!

In English, only one negative is used. In a sentence with no, we use the verb in the affirmative form.

There's nothing on at the movie theater.

NOT There isn't nothing on at the movie theater.

Compounds: every-

	Person	Thing	Place
every	everyone / everybody	everything	everywhere

- 1 We use the compound every- to talk about all people, things, or places.

Everyone / Everybody is here.

Everything is ready.

We went everywhere in the town.

- 2 We use the compound every- in affirmative, negative, and question forms.

Everyone / Everybody went to the concert.

We didn't have everything ready.

Did you go everywhere in the town?

(Student Book p.15)

RACE FOR THE KIDS

Sunday, June 9th, London, U.K.

Do something different on June 9th this year! Run in the Race for the Kids in London. Race for the Kids is a 5 km fun run. It raises money for a special children's hospital in London. Anyone can enter the race, so bring your family and friends, too! Last year, over 3,000 people ran in the race, and everyone has their own story of the day.

This is Lucy's story:

Five students from my class entered the Race for the Kids. Our family and friends sponsored us for the race. Before the race day, we also went downtown with our teacher and we collected money outside the supermarket and post office. In the end, we raised a total of £682 ($1,116) for the hospital!

Unfortunately, it rained on the day of the race, but nobody cared. Everybody had a good time! There were runners everywhere in the park, and we all had blue T-shirts with the name of the race on them. The atmosphere was amazing! I ran 5 km in 39 minutes, and I was very happy about that! Some people walked from start to finish!

ARE YOU INTERESTED?

Everyone is welcome to enter, but there are a few simple rules:

- 1 You must register online.
- 2 You must register before June 4th.
- 3 You must pay an entry fee when you register: adults £15 ($25), children (under 16) £10 ($16).
- 4 Children under 16 must have their parents' permission.

Reading

1 Read the web page. Then complete the chart.

Event:	Race for the Kids
Location:	1 _____
Date:	2 _____

Entry fee:	4 _____

2 Read the web page again. Answer the questions.

Who can enter the Race for the Kids?

Anyone can enter the race.

- 1 How many students from Lucy's class entered the Race for the Kids?

- 2 How much money did they raise for the hospital?
- 3 What was the weather like on the day of the race?
- 4 How long did it take Lucy to run 5 km?
- 5 Where must you register for the race?

Writing

3 Imagine your class is organizing a sports event to raise money for charity. Write a short description of your event for the school website. Think about the following:

- What type of event is it?
- What charity are you raising money for?
- When and where is it taking place?
- Who can take part?
- How and when must you register?
- How much is the entry fee?
- What other rules are there?

have toAffirmative and negative

Affirmative
I have to leave early.
You have to clean your room.

NOT Yes, she has. / No, she hasn't.

have to / must

- Have to and must have a similar meaning. Both forms show a necessity or an obligation, but their uses are different.
 - We use have to to show an obligation which the speaker sees as external (for example, a regulation or an order from someone else).
In my job I have to work from nine o'clock to five o'clock.
(The obligation comes from "outside" the speaker. The speaker sees the obligation to work from nine o'clock to five o'clock as an external obligation.)
 - We use must to show something which the speaker sees as necessary.
I must study some more – I have an exam tomorrow.
(The obligation comes from the speaker. The speaker sees the obligation to study some more as something which is necessary to do.)

mustn't / don't have to

- Mustn't and don't have to have different meanings.
 - We use mustn't when we are not allowed to do something.

International Backpackers – the best hostel in Melbourne!

International Backpackers is a hostel for international travelers with jobs.

Everyone at the hostel works in Melbourne. The hostel is fifteen minutes by bus from the city center, and the bus station is only a few minutes away. There are cafés, banks, and a shopping mall nearby, and there's a park only two bus stops away. It's a small hostel for only 30 guests, and this means you don't have to share a room with someone different every night. There are bedrooms with two, four, six, and eight beds. All the bedrooms are clean and comfortable, and you mustn't bring any pets. There are shared bathrooms with showers on every floor. There is a communal kitchen, a dining room, and a TV room. You don't have to pay for breakfast – it's free. You have to pay extra for Internet access and a space in the parking lot. The café on the roof garden is open every day.

★ ★ ★ Like: I arrived here last February. I enjoy meeting people from different countries, so this place is perfect. I don't have to clean my room or the bathroom because the hostel does it. The roof garden is cool, but we mustn't stay outside after 11 p.m.

Don't like: We mustn't listen to music in our bedrooms, and we have to wash the dishes and clean the kitchen after meals.
Sam

★ ★ Like: I arrived here four months ago and I'm still sharing a room with the same girl. I have a job, so it's great that I don't have to change roommates. I love being near the beach.

Don't like: I don't like paying a lot for the Internet, and some people make a lot of noise at night. Tina

Ambitious People

It's good to be ambitious because it helps us work hard. This week, reader Maria Turner writes about her ambition and how she hopes to make it come true.

I love playing soccer and, like thousands of other teenagers, my dream is to become a famous soccer player and mix with the top players. Of course, I know that this isn't going to happen, because professional soccer is very competitive! But I have a plan. I'm going to become a professional referee.

The referee makes all the decisions about a game, but he or she is also responsible for safety in the stadium. He or she can stop a game if there are problems with the weather or the crowd.

A good referee must have a strong personality and be able to take difficult decisions – with thousands of fans shouting at you, this isn't easy. A good referee must also be confident and good at talking to people. Most players are easy to talk to, but some behave badly. Referees are well-paid because pressure from sponsors and managers make it a stressful job.

I am sure that I have the right qualities to become a good referee. I like making decisions, and I enjoy telling people what to do. I am outgoing and good with people. Also, I don't mind working in stressful situations. But most of all, I am passionate about soccer.

How am I going to achieve my ambition? First, I'm going to do a course to become a referee for my local club. After that, I'm going to work hard and pass exams so that I can work with more important teams. It isn't going to be easy, but I'm confident and excited about the future.

Write and tell us about your ambitions.

Reading

1 Read the article. Then complete the sentences.

Maria Turner would like to be a _____.
She is going to be a _____.

2 Read the article again. Are the sentences true or false? Correct the false sentences.

Thousands of teenagers dream of becoming famous referees.

False. Thousands of teenagers dream of becoming famous soccer players.

- Maria has a plan to become a professional player.
- The referee can't cancel a game if the weather is bad.
- Refereeing is a difficult job because most players behave badly.

- Good referees earn a lot of money because they have a lot of stress.
- Maria wants to be a referee because she wants to be rich.
- She is going to start her career by playing for a local club.
- She must do a course to become a referee.

Writing

3 Think about your ambition. Write a paragraph or short text for the magazine feature "Ambitious People." Think about the following:

- What is your ambition, e.g., astronaut, actor, pop star, etc.?
- What qualities does the work require?
- What qualities do you have?
- How are you going to achieve your ambition?

They will win the big game tomorrow.	They' ll win the big game tomorrow.

Subject + will / 'll + base form of the verb

Negative
Full form	Short form
I will not go to college when I'm older.	I won't go to college when I'm older.
You will not be happy at your new school.	You won't be happy at your new school.
He / She will not be famous one day.	He / She won't be famous one day.
It will not rain later.	It won't rain later.
We will not be healthier in the future.	We won't be healthier in the future.
You will not be tired tomorrow.	You won't be tired tomorrow.
They will not win the big game tomorrow.	They won't win the big game tomorrow.

Subject + will not / won't + base form of the verb

• We use will:

- to predict or suppose.
It'll be awesome! The weather will be hot.
- to talk about future facts.
They'll arrive on the 11 a.m. train.
- to express decisions taken at the moment.
It's raining hard. I'll wait until it stops.

- to offer to do something at the moment or later.
Don't worry, I'll help you with your chores.

- to make a request with you.

Will you help me with my homework?

Yes, | + subject + | will.
No, | + subject + | won't.

will / be going to

1 We can talk about the future using three different verb forms: will + base form of the verb, be going to + base form of the verb, and present progressive.

2 We use will + base form of the verb to talk about:

- things we cannot control.
I think it'll be sunny tomorrow.
- when we decide to do something at the moment of speaking.
I'll call you back this afternoon.

3 We use be going to + base form of the verb to talk about:

- intentions, things we have already decided to do.
I'm going to watch a movie with my friends.
- something in the present that tells us something about the future.
There's a lot of traffic. We're going to be late.
Look at those black clouds. It's going to rain.

4 We use the present progressive to talk about things that we arrange to do in the future.

- "What are you doing tonight?"
"I'm going to the movies with Rachael."

First conditional

Affirmative
If we study , we'll pass our exams.
Hypothesis	Consequence
If we study ,	we'll pass our exams.

If + subject + simple present, subject + will / 'll + base form of the verb.

Negative
If you don't play , the team won't win .
Hypothesis	Consequence
If you don't play ,	the team won't win .

If + subject + simple present, subject + will not / won't + base form of the verb.

- 1 We use the first conditional to talk about future situations that the speaker thinks are probable.
If she leaves before ten o'clock, she'll catch the bus.
(The speaker thinks it is probable that she will leave before ten o'clock and as a consequence catch the bus.)
- 2 We make first conditional sentences with two parts: an if clause (the hypothesis) and a main clause (the consequence).
- 3 We make the if clause with if + subject + the simple present form of the verb + comma (,).
If we see Alice, we will tell her.
- 4 We make the main clause with subject + will / won't + base form of the verb.
If we see Alice, we will tell her.
- 5 We can put the if clause at the beginning or end of a sentence. When the if clause is at the beginning of a sentence, we put a comma (,) after it.
If the weather is nice, we'll go to the beach.
We'll go to the beach if the weather is nice.
- 6 We can also use imperatives in the main clause when we want to give orders.
Stop working if you're tired.
Don't wear sandals if you want to go walking in the mountains.

One World Study Abroad Program

Become a global citizen

1 _____
The Study Abroad program is a unique opportunity to meet new people, have an amazing time, and do awesome things. It is the perfect way to explore and experience life in another culture. If you spend a semester or a year in a foreign country, you will have time to become part of a community. What's more, you'll learn a foreign language, and make new friends for life.

2 _____
You will live with a host family and attend classes at the local high school. You will take part in community events and out of school activities. When you first arrive, a One World representative will meet you at the airport and take you to your host family. After that, they will help you if you have any problems during your stay.

3 _____
You will come home a different person! You will be more confident and more independent. You will also learn to be more tolerant as you start to understand and accept other people's customs and cultures. Many students also discover new interests. You will probably have a better idea about what you want to do in life. One thing is certain: if you spend a year abroad, you won't regret it.

"My year in Japan changed my life! It opened my eyes to the world, because everything was different. It also helped me choose a career. I'm going to be a diplomat and live in different countries. I'm going to apply to college and study Arabic and French. I won't get a job immediately after I graduate. I'm going to travel around the world.

My advice: Choose a country that is very different from home. Your experience will be more exciting."

They have bought a new laptop.
- We usually use the short forms of the present perfect in spoken and informal written English.
He's done a parachute jump with a friend.
- We use the present perfect to talk about:
 - a past action with a present result.
I've eaten too much candy – I feel sick.
 - experiences in our life without saying when they happened.
I've been to Europe.

Negative

Full form	Short form
I have not won a competition.	I haven't won a competition.
You have not read this book.	You haven't read this book.
He / She has not been scuba diving.	He / She hasn't been scuba diving.
It has not bitten me.	It hasn't bitten me.
We have not been to France.	We haven't been to France.
You have not slept in a tent.	You haven't slept in a tent.
They have not tried skiing.	They haven't tried skiing.

Subject + $\left| \begin{array}{l} \text{have not (haven't)} \\ \text{has not (hasn't)} \end{array} \right|$ + past participle

- We make the negative form of the present perfect with the simple present form of the auxiliary verb have + not + the past participle of the main verb.
We have not visited Los Angeles.
- We usually use the short forms of the present perfect in spoken and informal written English.
You haven't seen my pictures of the party.

Past participles

- We make the past participle of regular verbs by adding -ed to the base form of the verb.

Regular verbs
Base form	Simple past	Past participle
finish	finished	finished
play	played	played
watch	watched	watched

- Remember the spelling variations:
 - when the verb ends in -e, we only add -d.
live – lived
 - when the verb ends in a vowel and then a consonant, we double the last consonant and then add -ed.
stop – stopped plan – planned
 - when the verb ends in a consonant and then the letter -y, we replace -y with an -i and then add -ed.
study – studied
- There are no rules to form the past participles of irregular verbs. Look at the irregular verb list on the inside back cover and try to learn them.

been / gone

- We use the present perfect of be (have been / has been) to say that someone went to a place and then returned.
Julio has been to Japan. He really liked it.
(Julio went to Japan. Now he is at home.)
- We use the present perfect of go (have gone / has gone) to say that someone went to a place and they are still there.
Jo has gone to the store. She'll come back soon.
(Jo went to the store. She is at the store now.)

"Have you ridden a horse?" "Yes, I have."

"Has Elena slept in a tent?" "No, she hasn't."

ever / never

1 Ever means "in your life." We use ever in yes / no questions between the subject pronoun and the past participle.

Have you ever visited Canada?

2 Never means "not in your life." We use never in affirmative sentences between have / has and the past participle.

She has never visited Mexico.

Present perfect / Simple past

1 We use the simple past to talk about a completed past action. We also usually use the simple past with a past time expression which says when something happened (for example yesterday, a year ago, last Monday, in 2008).

I went to Miami last summer.

2 We use the present perfect to talk about a past action with a present result, or about an experience that happened in our lifetime, but we do not specify when it happened.

Have you ever been to Buenos Aires?

HOME Adventures About us FAQs Enroll

Life on the Edge

Have you ever climbed a mountain?

Have you ever slept outdoors with wolves and bears?

Have you ever been rock-climbing or whitewater rafting?

Wilderness Adventure

You can do all these activities and many more on our extreme wilderness adventures. Life on the Edge organizes two-week adventure camps for teenagers. We run summer camps in the Rocky Mountains, Ontario, and Alaska. Our adventure camps are fun, but they're also very safe. We have never had a serious accident. All our leaders have had a lot of experience with teen groups.

What the participants say

"I've been on three wilderness adventures, but the camp I'm on this year in the Rockies is the best. I'm having so much fun, and I've learned a lot. I've seen wild animals in their natural environment. Last night, we heard a bear near the tents! That was scary! I've learned to recognize wild animal tracks, and cook food on a fire. I've even eaten snake meat! And, most importantly, I've made some great friends!" Eric, 16

"This is my fourth wilderness adventure! I've been to the Rockies twice, Alaska once, and this is my first time in Colorado. Last year, I went hiking in Alaska, and we climbed three mountains. We slept in tents, and one night it snowed. That was awesome! This year, we're backpacking. I've learned to read a map and use a compass." Mia, 17

"This is my first wilderness adventure and it's amazing. I didn't have any outdoor experience when I arrived in Ontario, so it's been a challenge. It has also made me physically stronger. The most exciting thing I've done is whitewater rafting. What have I enjoyed most? Well, sleeping under the stars is really special for a city person like me." Tina, 16

Reading

1 Read the web page. Then match the teenagers with the camps they are at this year.

- | | |
|--------|-----------------------|
| 1 Eric | a Ontario |
| 2 Mia | b The Rocky Mountains |
| 3 Tina | c Colorado |

2 Read the web page again. Correct the mistakes in the sentences.

Life on the Edge has only had a few serious accidents.

Life on the Edge has never had a serious accident.

- 1 Eric saw a bear near his tent last night.

- 2 Eric has eaten bear meat.
 3 Mia has been on five wilderness adventures.
 4 Last year, she camped in snow every night.
 5 Tina has found the outdoor experience easy.

Writing

3 Imagine you are on a wilderness adventure. Write a comment to post on the Life on the Edge webpage. Think about the following:

- Which adventure are you doing?
- What activities have you done so far?
- What have you learned?
- Has anything scared you?
- What have you found exciting / challenging?

Brain Power

It's 7 p.m. and 16-year-old Nadine Conner has been online for two hours. She has already read and sent IMs, posted comments on social networking sites, and read an update on a blog she is following. She has researched her science project, and she has just started writing it. Nadine has done all these things since she got home from school.

1 c

As Nadine's example shows, the Internet has become an important part of a twenty-first century teenager's life. Today's teens have never known a world without it. They have used the Internet since they were children. But is all this online activity good for their brains? Has it changed the way they read and remember?

The Internet has certainly changed the way people read. Teenagers find it difficult to concentrate on long texts because they read a lot of short texts online. They click on websites, scan texts quickly, and follow links to different webpages. Their minds follow a lot of different directions. This is a different skill from reading a book.

Search engines have made it less important for people to use their memories. Why remember something if you can find it in a few seconds on Google? However, even before the Internet, people didn't try to remember everything. There were libraries and reference books to store information. The Internet is just another type of external memory.

Teenagers are using their brains differently, but this doesn't mean that they are losing their brain power. They can't concentrate on long texts, but they can process small pieces of information extremely fast. They have developed new skills, and their brains are simply adapting to new technology.

Reading

1 Read the article. Then match the paragraphs with the topics.

- a Memory
- b Adaptation
- c Modern Lifestyle
- d Reading

2 Read the article again. Answer the questions.

How long has Nadine been on the Internet today?

She's been on the Internet since five o'clock / she got home from school.

- 1 What is she doing now?
- 2 What type of texts do teenagers read?

- 3 What type of texts do they find hard to read?
- 4 What has replaced reference books?
- 5 Why are teenagers' brains changing?

Writing

3 Write a paragraph about how you use the Internet. Think about the following:

- How often do you use the Internet each day?
- What do you use to go online – a cell phone, a tablet, etc.?
- What are your favorite online activities?
- What do you read online?
- How many times have you been online today?
- What websites have you visited this week?

Past progressive Affirmative and negative

Affirmative
I was sleeping .
You were riding your bike.
He / She was watching TV.
It was raining .
We were talking in class.
You were waiting for me.
They were laughing .

Subject + was / were + verb in -ing form

Negative
Full form	Short form
I was not sleeping .	I wasn't sleeping .
You were not riding your bike.	You weren't riding your bike.
He / She was not watching TV.	He / She wasn't watching TV.
It was not raining .	It wasn't raining .
We were not talking in class.	We weren't talking in class.
You were not waiting for me.	You weren't waiting for me.
They were not laughing .	They weren't laughing .

Subject + was not (wasn't) / were not (weren't) + verb in -ing form

- We make the affirmative form of the past progressive with the subject + was / were + the main verb in the -ing form.
She was riding her bike on the sidewalk.
- We make the negative form of the past progressive with the subject + was / were + not + the main verb in the -ing form.
She was not skateboarding on the sidewalk.
- In spoken and written informal English, we usually use the negative short form.
We weren't watching videos online.
(= We were not watching videos online.)
- We use the past progressive to talk about actions happening at a specific time in the past.
I was waiting for the bus at 4 p.m. this afternoon.

- We sometimes use time expressions to show the length of time that passed:
 - from ... to ...
Camila was playing tennis from 3 to 4 p.m.
 - between ... and ...
We were reading between 7 and 7:30 a.m.
- We often use the past progressive to describe a scene, especially when telling a story.
The sun was shining and the birds were singing.

yes / no questions and short answers

yes / no questions
Was I sleeping?

Yes, they were .	No, they weren't .

Yes, + subject + was / were.
No, + subject + wasn't / weren't.

- We make yes / no questions in the past progressive with Was / Were + subject + the main verb in the -ing form.
Was she cooking dinner?
- We make affirmative short answers for the past progressive with Yes, + subject + was / were. We make negative short answers for the past progressive with No, + subject + wasn't / weren't.
Was she cooking dinner?
Yes, she was. / No, she wasn't.

while

- We also use the past progressive to talk about two longer actions happening at the same time.
Dad was sleeping while we were playing.
We were making pizza while Steve was doing the shopping.
- We use while to connect the two actions happening at the same time.
Emily was listening to her MP3 player while her younger brother was playing on his computer.
- While can go between the two actions or at the beginning of the sentence. If While is at the beginning of a sentence, there is a comma before the second action / between the two actions.
The teacher was writing on the whiteboard while the students were reading.
While the teacher was writing on the whiteboard, the students were reading.

Past progressive and simple past + when / while

- We also use the past progressive to talk about a longer action that happened in the past and that was interrupted by a shorter action.
I was using the computer when Dad called me.

- We can connect the short and longer actions with when or while.
They were walking down the street when they saw an accident.
The teacher came into class while we were making a lot of noise.
- When can come before the shorter action in the simple past or longer action in the past progressive.
Sarah was climbing when she fell.
When Sarah was climbing, she fell.
- While must always come before the longer action in the past progressive.
While they were watching a video, someone burglarized the house.
NOT ~~While someone burglarized the house, they were watching a video.~~

HOW TO BE STREET SMART

Stay safe on the streets by following a few simple rules.

Did you know that teenagers are two times more likely than other people to be victims of street crime? Many people are just unlucky, but others take risks. Read two victims' stories. What did Justin and Ava do wrong?

Sixteen-year-old Justin Bolton was walking home in the dark one evening. It was raining and he didn't have a coat, so he decided to take a shorter route across the park. Justin was listening to music on his MP3 player and he didn't hear two boys following him.

Suddenly, the boys attacked him from behind and pushed him to the ground. They stole his wallet, MP3 player, and cell phone, and then they ran away.

Fifteen-year-old Ava Parks was taking the bus home when a girl and boy got on. Ava put her bag on the floor to let the girl sit down. The girl thanked her and they started talking. But while Ava and the girl were chatting, the boy stole Ava's wallet from her bag. The two pickpockets were working together. They both got off at the next stop. When she got home, Ava discovered that her wallet was not in her bag.

Five Streetwise Rules

- 1 Don't walk alone in quiet places, especially at night. Muggers prefer dark, empty places.
- 2 Don't put your bag or coat out of your sight.
- 3 Keep the volume of your MP3 player low, so you can hear cars and people.
- 4 Don't be paranoid, but be careful of friendly strangers. Some pickpockets work in pairs.
- 5 If you go to an unfamiliar place, it's better to go with a friend or two.

Reading

- 1 Read the article. What type of street crimes were Justin and Ava victims of?

- 2 Read the article again. Answer the questions.

Why did Justin take a shorter route home?

Because it was raining and he didn't have a coat.

- 1 Why didn't Justin hear the two boys?
- 2 What did the boys steal?
- 3 Why did Ava put her bag on the floor?
- 4 What did the boy steal?
- 5 What did Ava do wrong?
- 6 Why should you be careful of friendly strangers?
- 7 What should you do if you go to an unfamiliar place?

Writing

- 3 Look at the picture. Answer the questions.

What was the man doing when the picture was taken? Is car theft a problem in your town?

- 4 Imagine you took the picture. Answer the questions. Then use your answers to write a story. Think about the following:

- Where and when did it happen?
- What were you doing when you took the picture?
- What did the man do?
- What happened in the end?

The Door to Knowledge

Braille is a special writing system for people who cannot see. Its inventor was a Frenchman named Louis Braille, who was blind and became a teacher. His invention made it possible for blind people to read and write, and to communicate independently. Today, nearly every country in the world uses Braille.

Louis Braille was born in 1809 in a small village near Paris. At the age of 3, he had an accident while he was playing in his father's workshop, and he became blind. In 1819, he went to live and study at the National Institute for Blind People in Paris. But Louis was not happy with his education. He said, "If my eyes won't tell me about men and events and ideas, I must find another way."

At the age of 15, Louis invented the writing system which is named after him. But he didn't stop there! In 1837, he added symbols for math and music. Louis created his code in 1824, but it didn't become popular until after his death. Braille began to spread worldwide in 1868 when a British organization called the Royal Institute for the Blind started using it.

Braille characters are rectangular cells with small dots that blind people can feel with their fingers. Each cell is different and represents a letter, a number, or a punctuation mark. Braille books have very big pages because the cells use a lot of space. These days, there are special braille keyboards which allow blind people to use computers and the Internet.

In his village there is a memorial sign which reads: "His invention opened the door to knowledge for all those who cannot see." Louis Braille was a great and inspirational man who changed the lives of blind people all over the world.
