bigger and (often) better?

The COUNTRY INN is now run under new management. I'm going to discuss some of the changes made by the new management.

This restaurant has a bigger, brighter, and prettier dining room now. The quality of the food is just as good. Roast chicken with mashed potatoes and the lobster are among the best choices. The dessert is getting better and better as the almond cake is fantastic and the chocolate soufflé is light as air.

Unfortunately, the menu is now less varied and the prices have gone up. Servers are not enough to handle a big crowd at a time. You also have to wait for long in the lines if you go there for dinner. Try lunch time for a quieter, more relaxed experience.

1. How have the new owners redecorated the restaurant?

They have made the dining room bigger, brighter, and prettier.

2. How have the prices changed?

The prices are higher than before.

3. What are some of the good choices on the menu?

The lobster and the homemade spaghetti are some of the good choices.

4. Are there more foods on the menu to choose among now?

No, there aren't. The menu is now less varied.

5. Is the quality of the food different from that of it when the previous owners were managing the restaurant?

No, it isn't. It's just as good as before.

6. Why does the writer suggest readers leave more room for the desserts?

Because he thinks that the almond cake and the chocolate soufflé are awesome.

7. What does the homemade spaghetti come with?

It comes with fresh tomatoes and olives.

8. How is the staff?

The staff is friendly.

9. How does the number of costumers impact the restaurant service?

The more crowded the restaurant, the slower the service.

10. Which one does the writer suggest? Dinner or lunch at the restaurant? Why?

He suggests having lunch at the restaurant for a quieter, more relaxed experience.

11. What is the average cost of dinner?

It's 12 to 23 dollars.

12. Are the desserts getting better or worse?

The desserts keep getting better and better.

13. How is the chocolate soufflé?

It's as light as air.

14. When do the lines get longer and longer?

They get longer at dinner time.

15. Are reservations accepted?

No, reservations are not accepted.
