1.

MAN: Excuse me. I'm looking for someone. I'm meeting her for lunch here. Her name is Emily Black.

HOSTESS: All right. What does she look like?

MAN: Let's see. . . . She's about 25, I guess.

HOSTESS: Look over there. Is she the one with the long black hair?

MAN: Uh, no, that's not her. Emily's fairly short and has . . .

HOSTESS: Oh, I think I see her! Look, she's waving at you!

2.

WOMAN: Sara, did you hear that Judy has a new boyfriend?

SARA: No, I didn't! What's he like?

WOMAN: Well, his name's Steve, and he's very nice. And he's tall, really tall. He's over 6 feet tall!

SARA: What color is his hair?

WOMAN: His hair is blond and curly.

SARA: He sounds very handsome.

WOMAN: He is, and he's the same age as Judy.

SARA: So he's 19?

WOMAN: Yes, that's right.

3.

OFFICER: All right, Mr. Brown. Tell me again what happened here.

MR. BROWN: Thank you, Officer. I told you – the man took my wife's purse from the back of her chair. We were at this table.

OFFICER: What did the thief look like?

MR. BROWN: I told you – he was elderly. He was maybe in his seventies.

OFFICER: And about how tall was he?

MR. BROWN: You mean, how short was he? He was pretty short – only about 5 feet tall.

OFFICER: What else do you remember?

MR. BROWN: Well, he had on baggy pants and a red T-shirt. He also had a white beard.

4.

SHARON: Hi, I'm new here. My name's Sharon.

CHARLIE: I'm Charlie. Welcome to our school party. Do you want something to eat?

SHARON: Not right now, thanks. Actually, I'm looking for Joe and Penny. I need their phone number. Which ones are they?

CHARLIE: They're that good-looking couple sitting on the couch.

SHARON: Oh, I see them, thanks. And one more thing. Is Clara here? I need to ask her a question about our homework for tomorrow.

CHARLIE: Let me see. . . . Oh, yes, I see her. She's wearing jeans and a red sweater. She's standing over there talking to Tom.
