Instructions: Read. Then write T (true) or F (false) for each statement.

Making Plans

I think making plans is important. I have two lists: one for my short-term plans and another for my long-term plans.

Short-Term Plans

Today, I'm going to do laundry and clean the house. I also need to start studying for a French test that I have next week. I have to finish both of these things before the weekend because I have a lot of things to do on Saturday and Sunday.

On Saturday night, I'm planning to go out for pizza with Pat. But first, I'm going to the beach during the day. The weather is going to be sunny and warm. Then, on Sunday, I'm going to eat dinner with my parents at the new Indian restaurant in town. It's their anniversary.

Long-Term Plans

I'm not exactly sure about my long-term plans, but I do want to buy a new car. The car I have now is really old—it was my grandfather's! I want to get married one day, but not before I graduate from college. I don't know about having children. Babies really change your life. The only long-term plan that I'm certain about is visiting Europe next summer!

- _____ 1. The writer will do some housework on the weekend.
- _____ 2. The writer's short-term plans include studying and going out with her family.
- _____ 3. The writer plans to get married after she finishes school.
- _____ 4. The writer is going on a trip to Asia this summer.

Instructions: Track 16 | Listen. Then complete each sentence with two words from the weather report.

- 5. Today, the weather was very _____ and _____.
- 6. Tomorrow, the weather will be _____ and _____.
- 7. Tomorrow evening, people should wear a _____ or _____ if they go out.
- 8. On Friday, it will be _____ but also very _____.

Instructions: Match the sentence halves. You do not need to use all the letters.
